

AASR Books in Print

Identity Issues and World

Religions: Selected Proceedings of the fifteenth Congress of the International Association for the History of Religions, edited by Victor Hayes. Religions are in a constant interplay between identity and change, dynamic processes in which the survival of traditions are at stake. What gives identity to religion? How do religions maintain their identities when faced with dispersal, secularism or pluralism? How do religions relate to the quest for identity? What are the religious dimensions of various identities? These and other issues are addressed - largely in terms of specific case-studies - in this selection of 28 papers from the 15th IAHR Congress held in Sydney in 1985. 307 pages, 6" x 9", hard and paper $A24.95 (H) $A15.95 (S) ISBN 0-908083-14-9.

An Introduction to Maori Religion.

Its Character before European Contact and its Survival in Contemporary Maori and New Zealand Culture, by James Irwin. Contents: the Maori world-view; creation; structure of Maori society; Mauri-Manu-Tapu-Noa; gods, demons and ghosts; approaching the sacred; Tangihanga- the rituals of death; Te Ngaherehere A Tane; sacrifice and offerings.

Illustrated, bibliography, glossary, 96 pages 5.5" x 8" $A7.95 ISBN 0-908083-11-4.

Religious Experience in World

Religions, edited by Victor C. Hayes. A readable discussion of religious experience in various world religion contexts, plus an introductory overview of types of religious experiences and an analysis of the notion of such experiences. 184 pages, 5.5" x 8.5", paper $A9.95 ISBN 0-908083-06-8.

Ways of Transcendence. Insights from Major Religions and Modern Thought, edited by Edwin Dowdy. An exploration of transcendence and transcendental experience from within the contexts of Islam, Judaism, Christianity, Buddhism, Hinduism and tribal religions. In addition, a sociologist, a psychologist and a philosopher consider transcendent experience as encountered in modern industrial societies.

184 pages, 5.5" x 8.5", paper, $A9.95 ISBN 0-908083-08-4.

Religion in Australian Life. A Bibliography of Social Research, edited by Michael Mason, compiled by Georgina Fitzpatrick. A bibliography of 3,600 research publications (not primary sources) on religion in Australian life, published both in Australia and elsewhere from 1945 to 1977, with selected materials up to 1981. Aboriginal religion, well covered in other bibliographies, is not included. 264pages, 6"x 9", paper $A15.95 ISBN 0-908083-09-2.

Interpreting Aboriginal Religion: An Historical Account, by Tony Swain. Australian Aborigines have long been a high focus of attention for Western anthropologists and have had a tremendous impact on anthropological theory. Tony Swain has investigated these Western investigators and composed a history of anthropological and pre-anthropological attitudes towards Australian Aboriginal religion, dating from 1606 to the modern era. Bibliography, 166 pages, 5.5" x 8.5", paper $A10.95. ISBN 0-908083-11-4.

Powers, Plumes and Piglets: Phenomena of Melanesian Religion, edited by Norman C. Habel. A synopsis of various types of religious phenomena found in Melanesia, including rites and customs which up to now have received scant attention. The materials have been arranged to facilitate their educational use. Adopted by academic institutions in Australia and Papua New Guinea. Glossary, 240 pages, 5.5" x 8.5", paper $A10.95 ISBN 0-908083-07-6.

Let Sleeping Snakes Lie: Central Enga Traditional Religious Belief and Ritual, by Paul Brennan. A major analysis of the Enga religion completed after eight years of anthropological research in the Western Highlands of Papua New Guinea. Bibliography, 64 pages, 6" x 9", paper, $A4.95. ISBN 0-908187-01-3.

Central Australian Religion: Personal Monototemism in a Polytechnic Community, by T.G.H. Strehlow. Professor Strehlow's famous study representing his mature thinking about the core of Central Australian religion, which is a major contribution to anthropology and religion studies in this area. It first appeared in an article in the Festschrift fur A.D. Jensen (1964), but has been completely redesigned and reset for this edition. 64 pages, 6" x 9", paper $A4.95 ISBN 0-908083-03-3.

High Calling, High Stress. The Vocational Needs of Ministers: an Overview and Bibliography, by Robin J. Pryor. In two parts: first an overview of vocational needs of ministers, including a summary of previous research; then a 570-item annotated bibliography with index. Bibliography, 136 pages, 6" x 9", paper, $A7.95 ISBN 0-908083-09-2.

Aboriginal Australians and Christian Missions, edited by Tony Swain and Deborah Bird Rose. Forty-one contributors explore, in specially commissioned historical and ethnographic studies, the enormous two-hundred-year long impact of Christian missions on Aboriginal lives. 500 pages, paper $A29.95 ISBN 0-908083-15-7.

ONE-THIRD OFF FOR ALL AASR MEMBERS

To claim your 33.3% discount, just mention in your order that you are an AASR member, and the discount will be granted. All discount orders, however, must be sent to the Australian Distributor named below.

In Australia send all orders:
The South Australian Government Printer
Attention: Mr. Trevor Klein
282 Richmond Rd.
Netley, S.A. 5037 Australia.

In North America send all orders to:
Meyer, Stone and Company, Inc.
1821 West Third Street
Bloomington, IN 47401
U.S.A.

Instructions for Preparing Documents for AASR Review

We aim to keep costs for the production of AASR REVIEW as low as possible. In order to help us do that, we make the following suggestions for submitting materials. Sending us materials already typed onto a computer disk will save considerable expense in re-typing, and will ensure that the materials will appear as you want them. However, please note the following points.

1. Send BOTH hardcopy of what you want your contribution to look like AS WELL AS the disk .

2. Please send disk data in an IBM compatible mode - on a 5.25 inch, 360 k disk.. It will cost us a considerable amount to transfer the data from Apple or Macintosh formats into IBM - university computer service departments can usually do this for you.

3. Our preference for word-processor is Wordperfect. If that is not available, send the file in ASCII format - which is available from any word processor. ASCII format is sometimes referred to as "DOS text". It does not include any instructions which are peculiar to a particular word processor.

4. Do not use TABS in your article and do not worry on your disk version about having things spaced correctly. Do not include bold-faced or italic printing instructions unless you are using Word Perfect. Do not use an extra line of space between paragraphs.

Advertising materials may be sent directly to Philip Hughes, 8 Power Street, Hawthorn, Victoria 3122. (Tel.: 03-861-6531.). All other materials for inclusion in the REVIEW should be sent to Tricia Blombery, 6 Balfour Street, Wollstonecraft, NSW 2065 (Tel. 02-438-2837).

Australian Association for the Study of Religions

ISSN Number 1031-2943