for the Study of Australian Literature

Special Issue 2007

Spectres, Screens, Shadows, Mirrors

Edited by
Tanya Dalziell and Paul Genoni

JASAL is a peer-reviewed scholarly journal, published annually by the Association for the Study of Australian Literature. JASAL also publishes occasional Special Issues. JASAL welcomes essays that consider Australian literature in all its forms (fictional, critical, print, filmic, and so on) and in terms of its socio-political and cultural contexts. We encourage comparative studies with other literatures and are particularly interested in contributions that challenge received critical paradigms and contribute to public debate. JASAL also welcomes review articles (up to 4000 words) and responses to previously published material (up to 2000 words).

Contributors should submit work to the editors online at <<http://www.nla.gov.au/openpublish/index.php/jasal>>.

Manuscripts of articles should be no longer than 6000 words (excluding endnotes and the list of works cited), should be set out in Times New Roman 12 pt. font and 1.5 line spacing, and should conform to MLA style in regard to quotations, citations, endnotes and lists of works cited. Endnotes must precede the works cited. The JASAL Author Guidelines are available online at <<http://www.nla.gov.au/openpublish/index.php/jasal/about/submissions#authorGuidelines>>.

Manuscripts that do not comply with the Style Guide may be rejected by the editors. Authors are responsible for obtaining copyright permission for any illustrations or figures cited in their texts. Manuscripts are refereed anonymously by at least two reviewers; please allow three months for consideration.
