

LITERATURE & AESTHETICS

VOLUME 17 NUMBER 1 JULY 2007

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

Samer Akkach is Associate Professor in Architecture, History and Theory at the University of Adelaide, and Founding Director of the Centre for Asian and Middle Eastern Architecture CAMEA. He is the author of Abd al-Ghani al-Nabulusi: Islam and the Enlightenment (2007), and Cosmology and Architecture in Premodern Islam: An Architectural Reading of Mystical Ideas (2005).

Dr Paolo Diego Bubbio is Postdoctoral Research fellow with the Department of Philosophy at the University of Sydney. His research interest include German idealism (particularly Hegel and Solger), Nietzsche studies, Existentialism and Hermeneutics, Philosophy of Religion, Philosophy and Literature. His current research project is "The notion of sacrifice in Hegel and Nietzsche". He is the author of The Intellectual Sacrifice, Rene Girard and Philosophy of Religion (1999) and The Sacrifice, Reason and its Other (2004), both in Italian.

Associate Professor David G. Brooks teaches Australian literary Studies with the University of Sydney. He has published extensively creative literature (poetry, novels etc) and is the current editor of the Southerly.

Dr Yasuko Claremont is lecturing with the Department of Japanese Studies at the University of Sydney. Her research includes publications on modern

Literature & Aesthetics 17(1) July 2007, page 242

Japanese prose poetry, the fiction of Ôe Kenzaburô's and contemporary Japanese poetry and translation.

Jennifer Cover is translating and writing a doctoral thesis, at the University of Sydney, on Bodhasāra, a previously untranslated Sanskrit text written by Narahari in eighteenth century India.

Dr Yücel Dursun is lecturing in Philosophy with the Hacettepe University in Ankara, Turkey. He has published extensively on classical philosophy, from Heraclitus, Plato to Aristotle as well as on modern hermeneutics and literature.

Dr Nijmeh Hajjar teaches modern Arabic culture, literature, history and language with the Department of Arabic and Islamic Studies at the University of Sydney. Her particular areas of research include also media studies and the role of women in Middle Eastern Cultures.

Shé Hawke is a creative writer, poet and researcher with the Department of Gender Studies at the University of Sydney.

Dr Elizabeth Rechniewski is Senior Lecturer in the Department of French Studies, School of Languages and Cultures, University of Sydney. She has researched and published widely on French intellectuals and engagement, including Suarès, Malraux, Sartre: antécédents littéraires de l'existentialisme (Minard). She has a long-standing interest in nationalism and nation-building in France and is a member of the International News Project, a group of researchers from eight countries headed by Peter White who undertake comparative newspaper analysis within a systemic-functional framework, reflecting a continuing research interest in discourse analysis of the media.

Dr. Michelle Royer teaches contemporary French cultural studies with the University of Sydney. She has special interest on contemporary French cinema and the ways it represents minorities, social suffering and the human body.

Associate Professor Ahmad Shboul teaches with the Department of Arabic and Islamic Studies, at the University of Sydney, and has published extensively on the history and culture of the Arab world. His research interests include classical and modern Arabic Thought: Political Islam in the contemporary Arab world; Arab political culture; Arab-Australian cultural relations; Arab Islamic historiography and human geography; the Arab-Hellenistic cultural interface in the eastern Mediterranean; socio-cultural change and continuity in the history of Arabia and the Fertile Crescent.

Anthony Stephens is Emeritus McCaughey Professor of Germanic Studies at The University of Sydney and Fellow of the Australian Academy of the Humanities. He is the author of many works in English and German on the works of Rilke, Heinrich von Kleist, 20th century German poetry, and the theory of literature.

Elise K. Tipton is Associate Professor and Chair of Japanese Studies at the University of Sydney. She is the author of Modern Japan: A Social and Political History (2002) and co-editor of Being Modern in Japan: Culture and Society from the 1910s to the 1930s (2000). Her research focuses on attitudes and experiences of modernity in every day life during the interwar years.

Dr Yiyang Wang is Senior Lecturer in Chinese Studies at the University of Sydney. She is the author of Narrating China: Jia Pingwa and His Fictional World (Routledge: 2006). Her major research interests are modern and contemporary Chinese literature, comparative literature, Chinese diaspora studies and critical theory. Presently she has two on-going research projects: "From Local Stories to National Identity: A Study of Competing National Myths in Chinese Regional Literatures" and "Rules of Art: Cultural Citizenship and Chinese Artists in Australia".

About the Journal

The publication of Literature and Aesthetics has been made possible through the generosity of the Chancellor's Committee of the University of Sydney. Established in 1977 on the initiative of the late Sir Hermann Black, the Chancellor's Committee comprises a group of voluntary workers raising money for projects of university-wide significance. Grants totalling $1m have been made for a wide variety of projects including Library art collections and rare books conservations, scholarships, furniture and furnishings for various buildings, equipment, and other minor projects. As far as we know, Literature and Aesthetics is the first University-based journal to receive the support of the Chancellor's Committee. The Sydney Society of Literature and Aesthetics wishes to express its sincere gratitude for such unique and encouraging support. Visit the Chancellor's Committee website at: www.usyd.edu.au/su/ccs/

The University of Sydney

It is journal policy to include papers in philosophical aesthetics on any of the arts, papers in literature and literary theory, and 'Hands On' work in the form of short poems, stories, essays and black and white art. Literature and Aesthetics is a blind refereed journal and all contributions to the journal are refereed.

Contributions must be submitted in both electronic form and in hardcopy. All submissions should be double-spaced and should adopt the format of the current issue. In general, endnotes are used for reference only. Preference is given to articles under 5000 words (including quotations).

Editorial enquiries to:

Vrasidas Karalis, School of Languages and Cultures A18, Department of Modern Greek, University of Sydney, NSW 2006, Australia.

Email: Vrasidas.Karalis@usyd.edu.au

All material appearing in Literature and Aesthetics is copyright and permission to reproduce in any means must be sought from the editors.

Logo: Douglas Albion Design Consultants

Printed in Australia by the University of Sydney Printing Service

ISSN 1036-9368

Literature & Aesthetics 17(1) July 2007, page 245

