(the Publisher)

concerning publication of the original copyright work, written and submitted to the Publisher by the Author, entitled—

'Title of article: And a subtitle as well'

(the Work)

in the publication—

Upsurge: Student Political Economy Review

and any successor publication published by the Publisher (the Review).

This Agreement sets out the terms under which you agree to permit the Australian Political Economy Students' Association Incorporated, as publisher of Upsurge, to consider for publication and/or publish your submission.

THE AUTHOR AND THE PUBLISHER MAKE THE FOLLOWING AGREEMENT IN CONSIDERATION OF THE PUBLISHER AGREEING TO PUBLISH THE WORK

1 Submission of Work

The Author—

- (a) submits the Work to the Publisher for consideration for publication in the Review;

- (b) has prepared the submitted Work in accordance with the Publisher's publication guidelines for the Review;
- (c) acknowledges that submission of the Work for possible publication is not acceptance of the Work by the Publisher and that the Publisher will notify the Author in writing of acceptance of the Work for publication or otherwise;
- (d) consents to the Publisher providing the submitted Work to anonymous third parties for peer-review as a condition of submission;
- (e) if accepted for publication by the Publisher, consents to the editing of the Work by the Publisher, for style and other matters, including feedback from anonymous reviewers;
- (f) shall promptly review comments from the anonymous reviewers and make necessary amendments to the Work to take in corrections or implement suggested improvements where these have been provided;
- (g) retains copyright in the Work.

2 Grant of exclusive licence

In consideration of the Publisher agreeing to publish the Work in the Review, the Author grants to the Publisher an irrevocable, perpetual, world-wide, free of cost exclusive licence to do any and all acts comprised in the copyright (whether now-existing or created in the future) subsisting in the Work for the term of that copyright and any renewals, revivals and extensions of that copyright, including but not limited to the right to—

- (a) reproduce the Work;
- (b) publish the Work;
- (c) index and/or abstract the Work;
- (d) distribute the Work;
- (e) transmit the Work;
- (f) communicate the Work to the public;
- (g) make the Work available to the public;
- (h) sub-licence any of the rights in the Work licenced to the Review under this clause;

in any and all formats, and either alone or as part of the Review or in any other publication, product or compilation in any format or in any manner or any medium whether now existing or developed in the future as the Publisher in its absolute discretion thinks fit (including without limitation in print, electronic and online formats, including without limitation to the Review website and sub-licences to indexing sites or repositories).

3 Author warranties regarding the Work

- (1) The Author provides the warranties and representations in this section of the Agreement. Upon notice of the breach of any of these representations and warranties by you, the Editors may in their sole and absolute discretion unconditionally withdraw any offer of publication or withdraw the published Work.
- (2) The Author warrants to the Publisher that the Work—
 - (a) is an original work created by the Author (alone or as a co-author with other named co-authors);
 - (b) includes as named co-authors all contributors entitled to be named as co-authors of the Work;

- (c) does not—and no part of the Work will—infringe upon the Intellectual Property Rights of any third party;
 - (d) is not defamatory or libellous;
 - (e) reproduces third party copyright material only as permitted by exceptions under the Copyright Act 1968 (Cth) or with the written permission of the copyright owner or their authorised agent, and in all cases with appropriate acknowledgement of the author and publisher of that material;
 - (f) has the necessary approvals of any applicable Human Research Ethics Committee, if application, and that publication is consistent with the conditions of any such approval.
- (3) The Author represents to the Publisher that—
- (a) the Work—or any part thereof—has not been published elsewhere (except where earlier version/s have been circulated as a working paper or work-in-progress conference paper);
 - (b) if an earlier version has previously been made available online in accordance with the limitation in paragraph (a), it has been removed from all sites where it could be found by a Reviewer;
 - (c) the Work or any part thereof will not be submitted elsewhere, until the Editors confirm in writing that the Review does not intend to publish the Work;
 - (d) any relevant ethics approval has been acknowledged in the Work by citing the approving body/person, as well as the approval number and/or date;
 - (e) any relevant research grant or funding has been acknowledged in the Work by citing the relevant grant or funding information including funding body/person, as well as any grant number and/or title.

4 Indemnity

The Author hereby indemnifies and shall keep indemnified the Publisher and its Editors for the time being in respect of any loss, liability or damage sustained in connection with the breach of any of the warranties or representation in section 3 of this Agreement.

5 Payments and royalties

- (1) No fee, royalty or other consideration is payable to the Author in respect of or in connection with the publication, licensing, sale or any other use of the Work by the Publisher.
- (2) The Author acknowledges that all monies collected by any collecting society or third-party organisation operating under a statutory licence in respect of the reproduction or other use of the Work in the Review and payable to the Publisher shall be paid in its entirety to the Publisher and the Author agrees not to register with any collecting society as author of the Work for the purpose of collecting any such monies.
- (3) The Publisher will retain 100% of royalties received from copying and reuse of the Work by others, such as via institutional photocopying or online availability of the Work.

6 Licence to Author

In consideration of the exclusive licence granted to the Publisher by the Author, the Publisher grants to the Author an irrevocable, non-transferable, royalty-free non-exclusive licence throughout the world to reproduce the Work and communicate the Work to the public for the term of the copyright subsisting in the Work (and any renewals, revivals and extensions of that copyright), including permission to upload a post-publication copy of the Work (provided by the Review for this purpose) to institutional and other repositories such as SSRN, provided that—

- (a) the Work has already been published in the Review and any reproduction or communication under the licence in this section 6 includes an acknowledgement that the Work was first published in the Review and provides full publication citation details, viz. author, article title, year of publication, volume and issue number and Review title [Upsurge]; and
- (b) the Author does not receive any valuable consideration for such reproduction or communication by way of royalty, fee or otherwise.

Beyond the terms of this licence the Review may grant specific permission for exercises of copyright in the Work, if permission is sought prior to those exercises.

7 Governing law

The law of the State of New South Wales applies to this Agreement and the parties to this Agreement submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of New South Wales.

8 Definitions

In this Agreement, the following terms typeset in bold and italics have the following meanings, unless otherwise defined in the Agreement—

Publisher, Review, Work and Author are defined in-line within the preliminary text of the Agreement after their first mention by the terms' inclusion in parentheses and typesetting in bold, italic type.

Intellectual Property Rights means all registered and unregistered rights in relation to present and future copyright, trade marks, designs, know-how, patents, confidential information and all other intellectual property as defined in Art 2 of the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organisation 1967.
